

What Does EPIC-N Membership Mean for Universities?

"[EPIC-N is] the easiest adopted and most efficient model I've seen for ensuring real and visible faculty and student contribution of value to area communities, while also improving the student learning experience."

— David Ward, past President of the American Council on Education and (twice) Chancellor of the University of Wisconsin

EPIC-N has great values to universities and their surrounding communities. Universities with different contexts are working with EPIC-N to reach their goals.
